

NEW YORK ACCLAIMS SEA HEROES

ROGERS SAYS SOS PHONE NUMBER OF CAPT. FRIED

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—New York gives its annual reception again today to Capt. Fried of the America.

First Officer Manning and his men are just starting in on their life saving careers. They are practically amateurs yet. But this Fried, it's getting so a boat won't make up its mind to sink till they know he is out on the ocean some place. He takes on more passengers in the middle of the ocean than most ships do at port.

If Hoover don't put him on his cabinet, why, Mussolini will on his. An SOS is that bird's telephone number.

So viva, the whole America crew and the generous passengers on board.

Yours,
WILL

Cruiser Measure Causes Concern On Senate Floor

Enactment Of Cruiser Bill
Only Important Legislation Till Special Session

PREDICT PASSAGE EARLY THIS WEEK

Farm Relief And Tariff Reform Will Be Handled In Extra Session Under Hoover

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—With five weeks of life remaining, the seventy-ninth congress today appeared to have completed its legislative program except for the administration's "big pay" bill, the usual appropriation bills and a handful of minor legislation.

The senate was occupied with the new cruiser bill, with administration leaders predicting its enactment during the week. The house faced a week of action on calendar legislation, most of it regional or personal, and a decision on the first deficiency appropriation bill, with its $24,000,000 increase in dry enforcement funds and its authorization of publicity of all Federal income tax returns.

Once the administration cruiser bill is enacted by the senate, only routine matters appeared ahead of congress. In the senate, two other important measures have been pending for months—the congressional reapportionment bill and the Edge resolution providing a survey for the proposed new Nicaragua Canal—and both probably will be enacted before adjournment.

Major Subjects Delayed
The really major subjects—farm relief and tariff reform—will not be considered by the dying congress. Both measures will be handled by the next congress at a special session, to be called sometime between March 13 and April 15, under an agreement reached by house and senate leaders. A long program of neglected bills undoubtedly will die with the adjournment of the old congress March 4. In the senate, the Caraway anti-grain gambling bill topped the list while in the house, the important rivers and harbors development bill apparently will lead the death list. Both bills probably could be enacted except that house and senate prefer talk to action in the closing days and filibusters usually develop to halt the legislative wheels.

Protracted Fight
The senate's battle over the new cruiser bill meanwhile attracted wide attention, one bone of contention has been the bill's cost.

Herb Is Waiting For Visit From Al

(International News Service)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 28.—The question that has been agitating all Miami for 24 hours—whether Al Smith is going to call on Herbert Hoover—was partially answered today by the President-elect himself.

"By all means, I shall be glad if Governor Smith has the time to call," said Mr. Hoover in response to a question. "I should be most happy to see him."

While this statement was made to newspaper correspondents, it was not followed up, so far as is known by any direct or personal invitation to the vice's retreat on Belle Isle, off the beach.

Democratic presidential candidate.

The statement, however, rather leaves it up to ex-Governor Smith. He is in Miami on a vacation, staying some miles away from Mr. Hoover.

Family Blessing Bestowed Upon Infant; Plan For Christening Shortly

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Devi Sharmishta, the former Nancy Miller of Seattle, Wash., who is now the wife of Tukirao Holkar, former maharajah of Indore, gave birth to a baby girl Saturday evening in Paris, Indian News Service dispatches received here today revealed.

Both mother and daughter are doing well, the dispatches added.

The new arrival will be entitled to call herself a princess, the Indian News Service stated.

The Hindu equivalent for christening will occur 13 days after birth when the child will be given a name in the presence of her father, mother and an officiating priest of that faith.

The former maharajah and his wife have been living at the Chateau Holkar, formerly the Chateau d'Hammond, in St. Germain, near Paris, for some time.

Blessing Received.
News that the stock was expected was first learned last October. At that time dispatches from Indore told that a request for the usual ceremonial propitiating the family deity and asking his blessing had been received there from Paris. Worship of the

Considerable Interest At Famous Resort As Former Governor Al Smith Appears

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 28.—Herbert Hoover resumed the job of being president-elect today.

Back at his Belle Isle retreat, broomed and burned from two days fishing beneath a tropical sun, Mr. Hoover waded into a mass of work which entailed everything from political conferences to getting a start on the inaugural address which he will make on the fourth of March.

At Smith at Miami

Miami's chief interest, however, lay not in the direction of the president-elect's Republican callers, nor what he will say on March 4, but whether he is to receive Al Smith, the man whom he defeated for the presidency.

Former Governor Smith arrived in Miami yesterday, and the whole winter colony is speculating upon the prospects of a meeting between the two. They have met only once before, and that perfunctorily, and long before either thought of being rival candidates for the presidency.

Smith was not on Mr. Hoover's engagement list today, but it isn't considered likely that he will leave Miami without paying his respects to the victor in the November battle.

House Members Plan To Fight Dry Fund Bill

Senate's $24,000,000 Prohibition Appropriation Bill Meets Opposition

HOUSE PLANNING CHANGE IN RULES

Belief Prevails That House Will Flatly Reject Proposal To Spend Huge Sum

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Administration leaders of the house have decided upon the extraordinary procedure of proposing a temporary change in the rules of that body in order to defeat the senate's $24,000,000 dry fund appropriation and the curb put upon the tax refund powers of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, it was learned today.

The plan was outlined at conference between Speaker Longworth, Rep. Tilson (R) of Connecticut, majority floor leader, and Representative Snell (R) of New York, chairman of the rules committee.

The unusual action, it appeared, will be forced by a combination of southern drys and a small group of wets who are determined to force an unwanted $24,000,000 on the dry regime and the fight made by Rep. Gardner (D) of Texas against the tax refund policies of the treasury.

Leaders Plan Action
Although the senate returned the first deficiency bill to the house last week, containing the two "dryers," the measure has remained unacted upon pending mapping out of a course of action by leaders.

While appropriation bills on which the two houses disagree are usually sent to conference committees for ignoring out of differences, the backers of the Harris dry amendment and

SWICK IS AGAINST BIG DRY ENFORCEMENT FUND

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Washington Correspondent For The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Congressman J. Howard Swick will vote against the passage of the Senate amendment to the deficiency bill which would provide for the appropriation of $24,000,000 for additional prohibition enforcement work.

The amendment was recently passed by the Senate despite opposition to it expressed by Secretary of the treasury Andrew Mellon who refused to recommend that the Senate should authorize the appropriation of the additional funds.

"I feel that Secretary Mellon and those who have investigated the matter and made a study of enforcement work should know how much money is required to conduct enforcement work," the Congressman Swick said in commenting on the amendment. "I am of the opinion that they are better acquainted with the amount needed than are Senators and Congressmen, and I shall vote against the passage of the amendment."

The Congressman compared the appropriation of the additional $24,000,000 to giving a schoolboy too much money.

"A young man going to school makes out his budget," the Congressman said. "Give him more money than his budget requires and he will be spoiled."

The Congressman opines that the treasury department, in requesting the appropriation of funds for prohibition enforcement, knows how much is required by the budget for the prohibition bureau, and feels that to appropriate more funds than the treasury has requested would result in spoiling the plans of that department.

BATTERY CITY HALL PARADE MEMORABLE

Mayor Walker Presents Gold Medals To Men For Exploit In Atlantic

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.

Amid the blare of bands, the cheers of thousands lining the sidewalks and a blizzard of confetti spiraling down from the windows of skyscrapers, Captain George Fried and the heroes of the Florida rescue paraded up Broadway today to City Hall, where they were formally welcomed by Mayor James J. Walker and awarded gold medals of valor.

Heroes Are Modest
The heroes of the hour, hardy weatherbeaten men of the line, America, who brought safely to port the 32 exhausted, half frozen men they had saved from the foundering Italian freighter Florida, accepted the acclaim of the populace modestly—almost bashfully.

"We're not used to this hero stuff," remarked Chief Officer Harry Manning who commanded the men who swung the cars in the lifeboat that set forth from the America on the storm-lashed waters.

But it was no new experience for Captain Fried—the business of being acclaimed. Just three years ago he won similar recognition after his rescue of 25 seamen from the British steamship Antiope.

Welcome Starts
Shortly before noon, the municipal welcome boat, Macom, gayly bedecked with flags, left pier A, the battery for Hoboken where the America was docked and where Captain Fried and his men were waiting. On board the Macom were Police Commissioner Grover Whalen, the city's "official greeter," and other officials.

The police band struck up stirring airs as the Macom nosed alongside the America. Several thousand persons assembled on and near the docks at Hoboken cheered as Fried, (Continued On Page Eight)

Eleven Bills Up In Senate

State Senate To Pass On
Eleven Bills At Third
Reading Tonight

EXPECT MANY NEW MEASURES PRESENTED

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Eleven bills will come up for third reading in the senate tonight. None is expected for final passage.

Bills to be considered include that of Senator Harry Scott, Centre, governing the thickness of barrier pillars to be left in bituminous mines. The bill embodies the recommendations of the commission appointed at the last session to study the subject and which were reported at the beginning of the session.

Each of the 17 sixth-class counties would be permitted to have an assistant district attorney under the bill of Senator Clarence Buckman, Bucks. The salary could range from $1500 to $2500 a year.

A bill similar to one defeated at the last session would compel all persons selling gasoline to check the pumps used once each week to assure the giving of proper measure. The measure would require failure to keep them or to permit "knowingly" the operation of a pump that give short measure.

Another Kunkle bill would permit the sworn statement of a person in charge of asylums or homes for weak-minded persons to be accepted as prima facie evidence in sanitary proceedings.

The senate last week closed with bill No. 163, one of many to create additional state roads. At least an additional 50 new bills is expected to be added to the list at tonight's session.

CRUISER MEASURE CAUSES CONCERN ON SENATE FLOOR

been eliminated by the senate endorsing a house provision, dividing the construction of the sixteen new warships between government and private shipyards. The remaining major argument will revolve around the so-called "time clause," which provides that five of the new cruisers be started this year, five more next year and five more in 1931.

President Coolidge and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, have declared against the time clause. The President opposed it on economical grounds while Borah said its elimination might pave the way to greater armament reduction by giving the United States a trading point. The administration leaders in the senate however have endorsed the time clause as have various soldier and patriotic organizations. It probably will be retained.

Administration leaders meanwhile hoped to secure a final vote on the bill this week.

Need More Ships.

In a statement, Rep. Britten (R) of Illinois, chairman of the house naval affairs committee, declared President-elect Hoover favored retention of the time clause.

"America's desire for free use of the seas cannot be assured by paper agreements alone," said Britten. "Steel ships with big guns, accompanied by airplanes, speak with much greater force than time-worn words of friendly treaties to maintain the freedom of the seas."

front of the former Veterans of Foreign Wars headquarters at 329 Neshaunock avenue, when Mr. Snyder slumped down and gradually sank to the sidewalk.

Others came along and the police were called. Detective C. G. Logan and Officer M. J. Young responding to the call. While the ambulance called was being awaited until finally C. B. O'Donnell lighted a match and recognized the man as being Mr. Snyder.

Although there were indications that the breath of life was gone, it was deemed advisable to take Mr. Snyder to the Shenango Valley hospital, where he was pronounced dead by a physician in attendance at that place at the time.

Mr. Snyder was born in this city, July 30, 1862, being in his seventy-seventh year. Although much of his life was spent here, especially the later years of his life, he was known throughout much of the country for his work as a decorator, in which work he was considered a real artist.

For many years of his life, he was engaged in traveling about many of the cities of the country, arranging the decorative details of various food and other exhibitions. It will also be remembered that he was the creator and designer of one of the earlier curtains of the Senior High School stage.

Mr. Snyder came of one of the pioneer families of this district and will long be remembered for his activities, especially in recent years, as president of the Reynoldstown School Association, also in connection with the observance of Old Timers Day.

He was a member of Emmanuel Lodge No. 608, F. & A. M. of Cleveland, O.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. May Britton, 1711 Kinsman Boulevard, Cleveland, O., and Flo of Indianapolis, Indiana, and one brother, David Snyder, of Detroit, Michigan.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

He was the son of the late Frank and Nancy Morrison Snyder.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, January 30, 1930 at 2 p. m. at the Jos. S. Rice Company chapel, 215 East North street. Burial will be made in Graceland cemetery.

HOOVER CONCLUDES HIS FISHING TRIP, WADES INTO WORK

Smith is here on a vacation, and to use his own expression "politics is adjoined."

The former governor spent most of yesterday dipping into the ocean, accompanied by William F. Kenney and John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Smith's arrival in Miami with Chairman Raskob marked probably the first time in history that rival candidates for the presidency and their respective campaign managers have been domiciled in the same town and the same time. Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National committee, is also a Miami visitor at this time, having accompanied Mr. Hoover south.

Patronage Sought

The controversial question of southern patronage occupied a good part of Mr. Hoover's time today. While he pursued the selfish and the selfish among the Florida Keys, Miami Beach became cluttered up with captains and lieutenants of the "new south" all willing and eager to point out to the president-elect how to consolidate the gains scored up in the November election.

Col. Horace A. Mann was on the engagement list today. He is the so-called "mystery man" of the Republican campaign. Ostensibly working independently of the Republican National committee, Col. Mann organized and directed the campaign against Al Smith below the Potomac, and the results of his work astonished even the Republicans themselves.

Plans New Fishing Trip

Col. Mann believes that the break in the solid South can be made permanently—providing that the new Republican blood is given sufficient recognition. Recognition involves federal offices. It is this problem of recognition that he will discuss with Mr. Hoover.

Guests at Belle Isle last night included Cyrus H. K. Curtis, the publisher, ex-Gov. James P. Goodrich of Indiana; Irving Bacheler, the author; and James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh, counsel to the Republican National committee.

Another fishing trip to the Florida Keys is planned by Mr. Hoover, to start probably on Wednesday.

The McKellar tax refund amendment served notice that they would refuse the necessary unanimous consent to give the bill to conference.

The alternative has thus been placed before the house leaders of either moving to suspend the rules and send the bill to conference, which would require a two-thirds vote, or to ask special rule making it in order for the bill to be sent to conference, which requires only a majority vote.

Opposition Strong

While the exact course of procedure was not revealed by Majority Leader Tilson, it was understood that the latter course would be adopted.

All of the house republican leaders, a canvass showed, are standing together against both of the senate amendments.

"I am opposed to them and all of the leaders of the house believe that they should be stricken from the deficiency bill," said Speaker Longworth.

"I am confident that the house will reject the senate's proposals," majority leader Tilson said.

Reps. Byrns (D) of Tennessee and Edwards (D) of Georgia, were slated to lead the battle for the senate provisions on the dry fund while Rep. Garner will support the McKellar amendment requiring the treasury to hold open hearings and render open decisions upon tax refunds of more than $10,000.

The clash on the house floor was tentatively set for Thursday.

Last Of Philanthropic Dukes Expires After Life Of Giving

Millions Invested By Father And Two Sons In Education And Helpful Causes Seldom Rivalled In History Of World's Benefactors

Tributes to a family whose gifts to the causes of education and social improvement seldom have been rivaled in the history of the world are paid in newspaper comment on the death of Benjamin N. Duke of North Carolina, the last of the famous trio of his name.

Reciting the history of the Dukes, the ASHEVILLE TIMES recalls: "Washington Duke was the thrifty and canny founder of the Duke tobacco dynasty. His son, James B. Duke, was the man who consolidated the Duke fortune with other capital, and as the directing head of the American Tobacco Company, played for a time with millions on an international chess board of finance. It was the other son, Benjamin, who first of the three gave his interest to higher education in North Carolina. And so it was largely through Benjamin Duke that the Duke family today has a record of having made gifts to education not equaled more than twice in the history of the world."

But for the Dukes, Trinity College might have remained a small college. James Dukes followed his father's footsteps and his brother's influence as a benefactor of Trinity and Duke. Benjamin never forgot his first enthusiasm for the cause.

Discussing the loss that is involved in the death of the last of these great contributors to public welfare, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS states: "Mr. Ben's death, Mr. Duke died in 1923. Durham, N. C., sits desolate at her crossroads. For Benjamin N. Duke, whose life ended this week, and James Buchanan Duke, his younger brother, who was a Jewisman for a good part of his life, did, jointly and severally, more for their home city and the State of North Carolina than any other two citizens that notable commonwealth ever fathered. It is significant that for Durham Benjamin Duke was never anything but 'Mr. Ben.' A nickname like that denotes affection and respect. 'Mr. Ben' was not as rich as 'Mr. Buck,' but in proportion to his means he gave to his city and state his noblest benefactions. 'Mr. Buck' gave something like $75,000,000 to Duke University, but 'Mr. Ben' gave continuously and with wise selections what his money should go to do the most good. He studied the need for each individual

"On a railway train one day 40 years ago from old New Bern to Morehead City," according to the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, "Washington Duke, while the train was crossing a bridge on the Trent river, looked on the railway window and said to a friend of his who had been a general in the Confederate army: 'General, if I had education I could see that river afire.' Relating the incident, the former West Pointer confided to his friends: 'Don't smile at that. In his way, Wash Duke is a genius. If the man had education he might indeed see our rivers afire. He is one of these men who do almost anything they undertake. Thirty years later two of Washington Duke's sons actually set rivers afire. It was the Dukes who originated and developed the hydroelectric industry in North Carolina. That industry has ministered tremendously in making North Carolina the despair of all its rivals in the South's development. In his will as in his gifts during his life, are the RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER, 'Mr. Duke sought to do his money's worth. He believed it would best carry along his previous contributions. It is a will that is marked by beneficent design to aid those individuals and institutions in which he was most interested. It shows that in death as well as in life he sought to be a good master of the wealth entrusted to him.'"

The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION describes Benjamin Dukes as "one of the nation's most outstanding benefactors, contributing to schools, hospitals, churches, orphanages and to needy individuals all over the United States."

Another reason why marriages don't last is because people can't distinguish between love and curiosity.

And then, again, the old-time youngsters may have seemed better because they were better liars.

There is no exact equality in matrimony. One will love a little more and the other will get a little more.

AMERICANISM: Feeling wicked because you surrender to temptation at intervals; hating the other fellow because he can surrender to the same temptation without feeling wicked.

You can't criticize modern women much if you can remember when the typical "dainty wife" was glad her man didn't beat her.

Many boys have talent and might become great cartoonists if they didn't spoil their chances by learning to spell.

Anyway, we are glad we lived in the old days when singers sang songs instead of whispering them.

THE MAN WHO FORGOT TO PLAY

by Franklin Blanning

He made his life a prison
When day had turned to night.
Never will he lift his head
To see a shaft of light.

He lived it dark with darkness
In which there were no stars.
Never will he use his eyes
To see beyond the bars.

He made his life a prison
Where all his days are long.
Never will he tune his ears
To hear a lovely song.

He cannot feel the sunshine.
He cannot feel the spring;
Never will he breathe the air
That only May can bring.

Grey walls that now confine him
Were not built in a day.
Stone was placed upon a stone
When he forgot to play.

He lives now in a prison
Of hardened bits of heart.
And does not know that laughter
Will drive the walls apart.

Another good way to hide from the world is to marry a famous woman.

Still, if we were consistent all our lives, we'd be sucking our thumbs at seventy.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Walter Gifford, the president of the American Tel. and Tel. will tell you that it really happened to him. He came across an amusing cartoon in Punch, the British humor magazine, which dealt with phone service. It pleased President Gifford so much he decided to ask the magazine's permission to reprint it in newspaper advertisements in America.

So he telephoned to Punch, in London, from his New York office: "I am President Gifford of the American Tel. and Tel. in New York," he said affably. "That cartoon was very funny, and I do wish you would let me republish it here. What is the cartoonist's name?"

"You got the wrong department," growled the voice, 3,000 miles away, as it hung up.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Senator Borah, good American, fears that if we build cruisers without making arrangements satisfactory to Britain we shall have a "shipbuilding race with England."—If necessary, why not have it?

But Britain couldn't afford it and knows that we shall never attack Britain unless we are first attacked.

The British, while they could, dominated the seas and were proud of it. Whoever didn't like it could jump it. That condition existed from the day when Nelson at Trafalgar wiped out Napoleon's chances of British conquest up to 1924.

It is Uncle Sam's turn now. Airplanes, submarines, fast cruisers will answer any question from any other nation, and this country should have the answer ready.

To him that hath shall be given. Stock exchange seats, recently rising to $500,000 in value, have enabled some tired of watching the ticker, to retire and look at the green fields.

Now 275 new seats will be added to the 1,100 membership. From the proceeds every member will get $125,000. Once that would have been a good deal of money, even in Wall street. It is just "chicken feed" now.

Mr. Whiting, secretary of Commerce, says 1928 was the greatest year in production and trade ever recorded. That's pleasing.

But wait until you see the figures for 1929. "Prosperity is the normal condition of this nation," as James Speyer said. There is nothing to frighten us but our own prosperity.

As gently as possible, tell the bears this, right from the Wall street "read box": "Enthusiasm carried dozens of stock issues into new high territory. It was the strongest, most active season of the stock market this year."

Federal Reserve Bank made a fine statement. Brokers' loans were only slightly increased. People have money to pay for what they buy, and wise brokers demand big margins.

On the whole don't sell short. You might lose.

Trotzky is reported to be in Afghanistan, raising an army to march against Russian Communists who threw him out.

One hundred and fifty of Trotzky's followers are locked in "rigorous" action for stirring discontent among unions and soldiers.

Trotzky was a good military leader, defending Bolshevism against allied "capitalistic" attacks. He then had the heavy armies of young Russia back of him, full of revolutionary enthusiasm.

How much can he do against Stalin, with such an army as he could raise? Probably not much.

Grow your own fur coats at home. Mr. Vernon Bailey of the agricultural department tells you that muskrats, exposed to need by swamps, can be raised like rabbits or guinea pigs, in small pens. They need only enough water to keep comfortably wet and cool in summer. This will interest California rabbit raisers, among others.

Victor Berger, honest, able, well educated member of Congress, whatever you may think of his theories, remembers that muskrats sold for two cents apiece in the streets of Milwaukee when he was a public school teacher.

Berger, a convinced Socialist, has a hard fight. The price of labor with its automobiles, radios, washing machines, has gone up almost as much as the price of muskrat skins. Old arguments are not as good as they were.

Poor Gandhi, the Mahatma, believes he can fight British trade by manufacturing cloth by hand in India. He will start another boycott on all foreign cloth.

As well try to fight modern taxation with hansom cabs. You can't change the world unless you keep up with it.

Former Senator Underwood died Thursday. He was a disappointed man. Twice he hoped to achieve the Presidential nomination. From that disappointment no man recovers.

In Buenos Aires Paris Giannini, skillful driver, was killed with his mechanic in an automobile race. The car was No. 13. That will make the superstitious a little more superstitious, but it had nothing to do with Giannini's death.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

CAN IT BE DONE.

Isn't it wonderful that we had a war to make the world "Safe for Democracy."

Turkey is now in the hands of a Dictator who tells the folks what kind of hats they have to wear, what they must dance and how to write their letters.

Italy has a Mussolini who measures out the yardage of spaghetti that can be inhaled, specifies the number of children who must be born, and picks out their names.

Afghanistan has a democratic ruler who tells the girls how long their skirts must be and orders the churchgoers how to pray.

Russia has a Dictator beside which all former Dictatorships are nothing. Can the world be made "Safe for Democracy?"

TIME FOR COUNTY TO ACT

ONE of the most discussed topics in New Castle during the national campaign and election of 1928, was the need for a redistricting of the elections precincts of New Castle and of a number out in the country.

Grave doubt was expressed that the vote could all be cast, but after a heroic effort the vote was cast, but only after long lines of voters had stood outside the polls most of the day, waiting their chance to get in. Had the weather been the typical November election weather the harvest of pneumonia would have been heavy.

Immediately after the election there was a demand for a redistricting and at that time it appeared that some steps would be taken to remedy a wholly unnecessary situation. The city was to be redistricted, heavy precincts such as the fourth of the Second Ward and others were to be split up, and a commission was to be appointed to study the matter.

The election excitement died down, and with it, apparently thought of action by the county authorities. As the matter stands now the voters are no nearer an equitable division of the polling places than they were last summer.

Just a little more than seven months intervene between now and the next primary election which will be in September, 1929. At that primary a district attorney will be nominated, a sheriff, a register and recorder, two councilmen, three school directors, a city controller, two jury commissioners and perhaps other minor offices.

That there will be a heavy vote is a foregone conclusion. Local elections interest the voters more than a state or national, and with the host of candidates that are bound to run, the vote will be correspondingly heavy. Unless steps are taken in the immediate future to redistrict the city, the same hubbub will be raised, the same congestion at the polls will be seen, the same endless hours must be spent by weary boards totalling twice as many voters as any one board should be called upon to count.

The time for action in the matter is now, when it can be adjusted with no interference in the election. Some years ago the county commissioners presented a petition to the Lawrence county court for a redistricting, but this petition was never acted upon. Another petition should be presented by the present board of county commissioners and should be done at once.

The need for the redistricting is just as vital today as it was on that day last November when housewives stood for an hour in line waiting to get into the polling booth. Action now upon the part of the county commissioners would obviate overcrowding next fall.

JIM REED'S SWAN SONG

ON March 4, James A. Reed, of Missouri, will retire from the United States senate in a blaze of publicity—if not of glory—so the season for obituaries on his public career is here. These obituaries will convey the thought, universally held, that the firebrand of the senate is ending his political career as well as his career as a senator.

While Senator Reed has occupied the limelight through four administrations, and his career adds to Missouri's name as a state of great senators, he will be forgotten five years after retiring from active politics. He will pay the price for not having played the game according to Hoyle.

His is a confirmed role in the leadership of obstructionists. His story is a repetition of dubious distinctions. What constructive work is to his credit? What signal piece of legislation bears his name?

He has demonstrated again that there are from time to time men in public life who build a great name and great fame and yet, when the question is asked, none can say why. His incisive mind and exceptional powers of invective have commanded the notice of the public and made him feared in the senate. In a day of the decline or orators, he is a great one.

Aided by his peculiar venom and merciless and expert criticism, he could have won lasting fame and might have fought his way into the white house had he taken the leadership in support of major legislation instead of spending his remarkable powers upon negative action.

NUMBERING BASEBALL PLAYERS

BASEBALL, which soon will occupy the center of the stage for another season, has been very much the same in season and out as far back as veteran fans can remember. Players have come and gone, new stars have ascended and fallen and uniforms have undergone some transformation, but innovations have been few and far between.

The New York Yankees promise an innovation this year. When they go into action in April, by their backs ye shall know them. Rather, they shall be known by the numerals, embroidered, painted, stenciled or sewed on the backs of their uniforms.

Strange, that this did not become a custom years ago! Football and hockey players are numbered and so are the athletes of field and track. Why not baseball players, who are no more distinguishable from remote bleachers?

It is inconceivable that any man, woman or child who knows the difference between a baseball and ping-pong could possibly mistake Babe Ruth for any other player under the sun. As well talk about mistaking Lindbergh, the flier, for Weston, the walker. But there are players, whose pictures do not appear in the Sunday supplements, who look alike in uniform. These justify identifying the players on the score cards through the numbering system.

Nothing is more disconcerting than to see a remarkable catch, or beautiful throw, and not recognize the wizard of the diamond who did it. May the Yankee precedent become standard.

Q133 INTERNATIONAL SYNGATE

Ready For First Reading Tonight Of Several Bills

State Legislature Has Been In Session Little Over Seven Hours This Month

COMMITTEES ARE BEING PRESSED

House Members Ready To Enact First Measures; Session To Last Until Wednesday

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—After being in session for a few minutes more than seven hours this far this month, the House of Representatives will reconvene tonight at nine o'clock. This week's session will probably continue until Wednesday.

The first House calendar will make its appearance tonight and two bills will be found on it for action. One bill, sponsored by Representative Hunter, Lackawanna, provides that decisions in cases before addressees and justices of the peace involving not over $25 shall be final except where appeals are taken. The other bill, introduced by Representative Marcus, Allegheny county, increases the jurisdiction of Allegheny county courts in civil actions. Both measures will be given first reading tonight.

Three Hundred Bills

More than 300 bills are now before the House for consideration, and during the sessions tonight and tomorrow many will be reported from committees so that they may be placed on the calendar and advanced. Efforts to speed up the House will be made this week and Speaker Hess has let it be known that he desires all committees to act on bills in their possession as rapidly as possible. Last week practically all committees met for reorganization and there were some discussions on bills. A number of these are to be reported to the House tonight so that tomorrow a fairly heavy calendar of first reading bills will appear.

Statisticians have figured that to date the House has been in session seven hours and seven minutes since the opening day, January 1. On that day the session lasted three hours and 15 minutes, a part of this time having been given over to the delivery of Governor Fisher's message to the legislature. At the conclusion of that session the House recessed for two weeks, reconvening on Monday night, Jan. 14, when the members were in session 45 minutes.

The following day the session lasted 37 minutes, when adjournment was taken until last Monday night, the session at that time lasting 55 minutes. Tuesday, Jan. 22, the House met for one hour, recessed, met again for 15 minutes and then adjourned until tonight.

GOOD CONGREGATIONS HEAR PITTSBURGH MAN

There were large and interested congregations present at the Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday morning and evening to hear Rev. J. C. Jewell of Pittsburgh. He delivered two interesting sermons which pleased all who heard them.

American Prosperity In Fifty-Year Span Shows Remarkable Increases

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A half-century of American prosperity and progress were outlined by the Commerce department today in connection with the golden anniversary of the compilation of business statistics by the government.

National wealth in this period has expanded enormously from $43,642,000,000 in 1879 to $320,804,000,000 in 1928 and probably another hundred billion since that year.

In twenty nine years the value of all agricultural crops rose from $2,519,000,000 to $9,266,000,000. The manufacturing output in forty six years increased more than 11 times to a total of $62,714,000,000, while the mineral production jumped from $367,000,000 in 1880 to $5,520,000,000 in 1927.

The department's compilation shows an increase in individual bank deposits from $2,134,000,000 in 1880 to more than $51,000,000,000 at the present time.

Foreign trade has expanded an average of 13 1/2 per cent a year in the last half century, exports having shown a gain of 12 per cent and imports 7 1/2 per cent. It was anticipated that 1929 would see the total trade close to $10,000,000,000.

CAPTAIN FRIED AND ASSOCIATES GIVEN PLAUDITS

Manning and the others stepped from their ship to the Macon. Fried and Manning repeatedly saluted to the crowd in response to the ovation.

Thousands of people were massed in Battery Park and along contiguous thoroughfares when the Macon returned, at 12:40 p. m., to the Battery. A road of applause burst forth as Captain Fried and his men disembarked.

Mounted police rode among the spectators and prevented the more enthusiastic from breaking through the "dead line."

Then the parade up Broadway from the Battery to City Hall, a distance of about a mile, was begun.

Broadway Crowded

Broadway was black with people. The parade had been timed for the lunch hour. From out of the canyons of the Wall street financial district and the buildings of lower Manhattan poured droves of stenographers, clerks and business and professional men and women. They

Fire Alarm Caused By Open Fireplace

Small Damage Is Done To Englewood Avenue Home Early Sunday Morning

A fire, burning in an open grate while the family was out of the city, was the cause of the alarm which called No. 2 fire department and truck B from the Central Fire department to the home of Mrs. M. J. Rhodes, 121 Englewood avenue at 3:35 Sunday morning. Wooden rafters supporting the concrete base of the fireplace were burned, with a loss estimated at $30.

Officer Punctures Tires To Stop Fleeing Driver

It was reported to the police Sunday afternoon that there was a car, evidently driven by a man under the influence of liquor, being driven down East Washington street in a very reckless manner.

Motorcycle Officer Charles Augustine was detailed and found that the car had turned up Croton avenue. He gave chase and the faster the officer went the faster the driver of the car went.

Repeated calls for the driver to stop were without avail, in spite of the fact that the woman in the car who proved to be the wife of the driver, was screaming to the driver to stop.

They had almost reached the city limits on Croton avenue when Officer Augustine saw that his man must escape, determined on radical action. Taking his revolver, he shot a hole in the rear tire. But the driver continued in his mad race for the country and freedom.

Then the officer took another shot and punctured a front wheel tire. This stopped the race. Officer Longstreet arrived on the scene with the police car and the man, who gave the name of Clarence Jones, and his place of residence as Wampum, and his wife, to the police station, while Officer Augustine looked after the arrested man's car.

On examination it was found that Jones was under the influence of liquor. He was taken before Alderman O. H. P. Green this morning, where Chief of Police C. C. Horner made a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated against him. Jones waived a hearing and was held for the March term of court. He gave bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at that time.

Vigorous water action does the washing—as the solid copper tub swings quickly back and forth. The daintiest articles may be washed without danger—there is not a moving part inside the tub. Ten minutes is enough for the most soiled pieces, and either ten pounds of dry clothes or a mere handful may be put in at one time. The Thermos cabinet keeps the water hot.

The wringer, adjustable in five different positions for either right or left hand use, has big balloon-type rollers. Buttons and clasps cannot be broken. The drain-board is stationary and the water-board tilts either way. Clothes may be run from the washer to the rinse, to bluing, to basket—without moving the machine.

The New Gainaday Electric Washer is a lifetime investment. It requires less power to operate. It cannot rust or corrode. And back of it stands the Gainaday Electric Company with 16 years' experience in studying household washing needs, and in manufacturing a machine to meet those needs exactly. Says Ten Herbs Made Him Feel Like New Man Indigestion, Bilioessness And Constipation Gone; Glorious Health Returns.

"I am always glad to recommend Ten Herbs, for your medicine has made me feel like a new man," was the recent statement of Mr. Samuel Stewart, 817 Tobin Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., according to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of

MR. SAMUEL STEWART

New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine to crowds of men and women of all ages and stations in life.

"Before using Ten Herbs, I had a bad case of indigestion, and none of the medicines that I tried gave me a particle of relief," Mr. Stewart continued. "Food did not seem to agree with me, as I would have terrible indigestion after nearly every meal. This was accompanied with awful pains. I was troubled with constipation, and not getting rid of waste matter regularly caused me to be bilious. Dizzy spells and severe headaches came on me. I had no ambition or energy. I would feel drowsy—if I sat down a minute I would fall asleep, and then when night came I would be so nervous that I could not sleep, but would roll and toss by the hour. Nearly all the time I was taking laxatives for constipation and sedatives for sleeplessness."

"I was in just this condition when I learned about Ten Herbs. I started using your medicine, and I could tell that it was helping me after the first few doses. I can now eat anything I want, and am not troubled any more with indigestion or gas. Bilioessness, dizzy spells and headaches have completely disappeared. The pains across my back are gone. I am getting stronger every day, and sleep better, too. My bowels seem to be in perfect condition. Ten Herbs is a great medicine, and I gladly endorse it to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Farmers Guests At Rotary Dinner

State Department Man Is Speaker At Dinner At The Castleton

That the real solution to the problem confronting agriculture today can be solved only by each individual himself, and that by efficiency in production, was the thought voiced in the address given by Prof. Henry Reist of the department of agricultural economics at the special Farmers' Day meeting of the New Castle Rotary club at The Castleton today. Each Rotarian had as his guest today some inhabitant of the rural sections of Lawrence county, and the address that Prof. Reist made interested the farmers and Rotarians alike.

"Town and Country Interdependence" was the subject of his address in which he delved into the solutions that have been offered for the agricultural situation. "Since 1921," he said, "we have been hearing of the numerous problems that face agriculture. Since that time there have been numerous solutions but none seem to solve the problem."

Mr. Reist went on to outline some of the solutions that numerous agriculture leaders, writers and others have offered. He said that agriculture, business and industry are closely associated with each other and that what directly affects one of the three indirectly affects the others. People of each branch are dependent on those of the other no matter how widely separated they are, he stated.

After citing facts and figures of present day agriculture, Reist said that while some of the solutions that have been offered seem fine at first, they fail to measure up to what was first thought of them after they have been analyzed. In conclusion he stated that, personally, he believes the problem must be solved by all, by each individual alone through efficient production.

DECEMBER-MAY - - - - - By Laird

Men never get so old, bald and fat that they think they are unattractive to women. When the wife of their youth dies, do they pick out a woman of their own age for number two? They do not. They pick out—in nine cases out of ten—some slim, young creature, flatter her with the attentions of a successful business man, spend money on her as few men of her own age can afford to do, point out that they can give her a fine house, position, and a luxurious car, intimate that they will hang diamonds on her and that the two of them will dance through life together without hard work or sacrifice of any sort. She is flattered and dazzled.

Youths of her own age appear callow and clumsy beside this man of affairs, and the match is made.

What follows: The man tries to settle back into his former life with his first wife. He wants to entertain his middle-aged friends and play around with them—bridge or golf. He is contented with his easy chair and his paper after dinner and doesn't want to go out. And the girl, too late, discovers she wants to go to dances and other amusements with young folks her own age, and ten to one she meets a good looking young man with whom she could have been happy building a little home and rearing babies, and she grows to hate this elderly person who had no business getting her to marry him—taking advantage of her youth and inexperience, as she calls it. The consequence is boredom for both, if not divorce.

Annual Report Of Fire Chief

New Castle Has Fire Loss Of 82 Cents Per Capita During 1928

FIRE LOSS TOTALS MORE THAN $43,000

Eighty-two cents is the per capita fire loss of the city of New Castle for the year 1928 according to the annual report of Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn this morning presented to city council.

"During the year the various fire companies in the department answered 390 alarms an increase of 68 over the year 1927. Thirteen of these were out of the city.

The total fire loss for the city during 1928 was $43,340.45. Of this $23,542 was for buildings and the rest for the contents of the buildings.

Two hundred and forty fire alarms were received over the telephone; 68 were turned in at the street boxes; 54 were false. Of all the alarms, 46 were false.

Fire extinguished by chemicals alone numbered 151; by water alone 57; by water and chemical, 17; and by other methods 30. The department was summoned 65 times and did not go into action.

No fire loss to any one building during the past year exceeded $2,000. Of the total fire loss only $2,600 was not covered by insurance.

In answering 390 alarms during 1928, the chief's car traveled 4,355 miles. In answering 105 alarms No. 1 company covered 205 miles; No. 2 company answered 82 alarms, traveling 178 miles; No. 3 company, 21 alarms, 68 miles; No. 4 company, 90 alarms, 159 miles; No. 5 company, 101 alarms, 221 miles; No. 6 company 63 alarms, 143 miles; No. 7 company, 30 alarms, 75 miles; aerial truck 105 alarms, 241 miles; truck B 34 alarms 108 miles.

Truck B was put into service at 10 o'clock the morning of November 13. During the year the department used 1,365 gallons of gasoline, 109 gallons of oil and two gallons of castor oil. The Central Fire department moved to its present site on South Jefferson street on August 9.

"This new location for the Central department is ideal," comments Fire Chief Lynn. "It gives the trucks ample room to make the swing into the street. Truck B fills a long felt need, that of giving the north and east sides adequate ladder protection. The present water system is an invaluable asset to the city of New Castle. I believe that it is one of the best in the country due largely to the efforts of H. B. Richards the superintendent and his able corps of trained men."

"During the year the water company removed 255 old type fire hydrant nozzles and replaced them with the new screw type. This gives a positive connection with the hydrant and eliminates all loss of water from hydrant to hose line."

Motorist Hits Man On Street

Herman Mielke of Wampum R. D. No. 2 reported to the police Saturday that he was driving west on Long avenue near Fisher's big store, when a man named William Smithworth of 1705 South Jefferson street, in crossing from the west side to the east side of Long avenue, stepped directly in front of his car. He was knocked down and Mr. Mielke picked him up and placed him in another car, taking him to a hospital. Here it was found that he was injured about the right leg and ankle and also about the right eye. Apparently he escaped serious injuries.

Atlantic Ocean Is Storm-Swept; Ships Crippled

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Storms and gales, more intense than those which wrecked havoc along the shipping lanes last week, were reported raging in mid-Atlantic today.

Officials of the Radio Marine Corporation said that no further word had been received from the British steamship Silver Maple which flashed an S. O. S. through the ether Saturday from a point 700 miles east of Boston. The coast guard cutters Mojave and Tampa were speeding to the aid of the foundering ship, however, and expect to reach her position by late tonight.

The three other distressed vessels, the Capo Vado, the Dixiano and the Fernald, also were unreported. Liners seeking to find them radioed progress yesterday, but sent no additional word today.

Hope has been practically abandoned for the trawler Seiner, missing with a crew of 22 between Boston and Newfoundland. The Seiner has not answered radio calls for four days and rescue ships can find no trace of her.

ACCUSED BOY MAY ESCAPE DEATH

Death or life sentence may not be passed on Frank Rokas, 12, right, of Nashua, N. H., youngest boy ever to be charged with first degree murder in New Hampshire. Authorities said he killed a pal, Adam Goodvitch, 9, because he told police about goods they had stolen. On the left is John Misking, 10, third member of the triumvirate, said to have seen the shooting but held blameless.

Enters Guilty Plea In Liquor Case

Armed with a search warrant, Lieutenant of Police Hillers, and Officers M. J. Young, Craswell and Lockard last night visited the place of Bob DeGarmo, 211 East Division street, and found two gallons of liquor. DeGarmo was taken before Alderman J. Lee Cooper this morning, where a charge of violating the Snyder act was made against him by Chief of Police C. C. Horner. He entered a plea of guilty and in default of bail was sent to the county jail to await disposition of his case at the March term of court.

The new directors are planning a benefit luncheon for the church in the near future and also contemplating plans for the securing of a new and larger church.

Butler police authorities on Saturday asked the local police authorities to be on the lookout for a Blue Cab Taxi bearing Pennsylvania license 6374 and belonging to the Reed Taxi company of that city, which had been stolen there.

TWICE CHEATED

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD

Safety

ONE of the outstanding features of the new Ford is its mechanical, internal-expanding six-brake system.

This is unusually reliable and effective in action because the braking surfaces of all six brakes are fully enclosed. There is no possibility of mud, water, sand, road dirt or grease entering the brake mechanism or getting between the bands and drum and impairing brake performance.

The use of steel forgings wherever there is a possibility of wear in the chassis of the car, the sturdy steel body construction, balance, ease of operation and control and a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield are other important safety features.

Comfort

You have a feeling of mental comfort in driving the new Ford because you are sure of its mechanical reliability. No matter how long the trip or rough or devious the roadway, you know it will bring you safely, quickly to the journey's end.

Physically, too, you will feel fresh and relaxed in the new Ford because it is such a roomy, comfortable car. Seats are wide and deeply cushioned, with backs designed to conform to the curves of the body.

Even on comparatively rough stretches, there are no hard bumps or jolts, nor exag-

SERVICE

"IT HAS always been our belief that a sale does not complete the transaction between us and the buyer, but establishes a new obligation on us to see that his car gives him service. We are as much interested in his economical operation of the car as he is in our economical manufacture of it.

"For that reason we have installed a system of controlled service to take care of all Ford car needs in an economical and improved manner. We wish all users of Ford cars to know what they are entitled to in this respect, so that they may readily avail themselves of this service."

Kenny Ford

of Ford dealers, and close supervision of service are additional reasons for the economy of the new Ford.

The cost of new parts is also low because of the established Ford policy of doing business at a small margin of profit.

Beauty

The new Ford is distinguished by its quiet simplicity of line and air of sturdy strength. Without being extreme, it has struck a new note in motor car designing. A particularly pleasing feature is a choice of beautiful colors in all body types without additional cost.

The upholstery is of woolen material, rich and luxurious, yet long-wearing. Fenders are heavy and gracefully contoured. Instrument panel—door handles—window lifts—interior trimming and finish—all reveal a quality of material and a careful workmanship unusual in a low-price car.

Ease of Control

Another outstanding feature of the new Ford is its ease of operation and control.

The steering wheel answers to the touch of a finger. Gears shift silently, smoothly. Brakes take hold quickly, firmly even on rain-swept pavements. Quick acceleration and alert speed are especially appreciated in traffic and emergencies. A space little longer than the car itself is all you need for parking.

All of these things simplify the mechanics of motoring and add a great deal to the joy and comfort of motoring. Particularly to a woman, they mean driving without strain or fatigue.

Smooth Speed

Everywhere you go, you note the alert, capable performance of the new Ford. You can judge its acceleration by the way it gets away in traffic. A smooth stretch on the open road gives a revealing measure of its speed. The way it climbs the hills in high is an indication of its abundant power.

The new Ford will do 55 to 65 miles an hour, which is probably faster than you will ever need to go. Far more important is the way it rolls along at 35 and 40 and 45. This is your average driving speed and you can maintain it smoothly, easily, comfortably for hours in the new Ford.

Reliability

The new Ford is reliable in performance because of its carefully planned simplicity of design and the enduring quality that has been built into every part.

Throughout, it has been made to give you many thousands of miles of pleasant, enjoyable motoring at a minimum of trouble and expense. From every part of the world come letters from Ford owners commenting on this reliability, and giving specific data on unusual performance.

Thousands of the new Fords have been driven more than 50,000 miles in the past year. Some, used night and day, have passed the 100,000-mile mark. There is no telling how far they will go. The average life of the Model T was seven years. We believe this new car will do better than that.

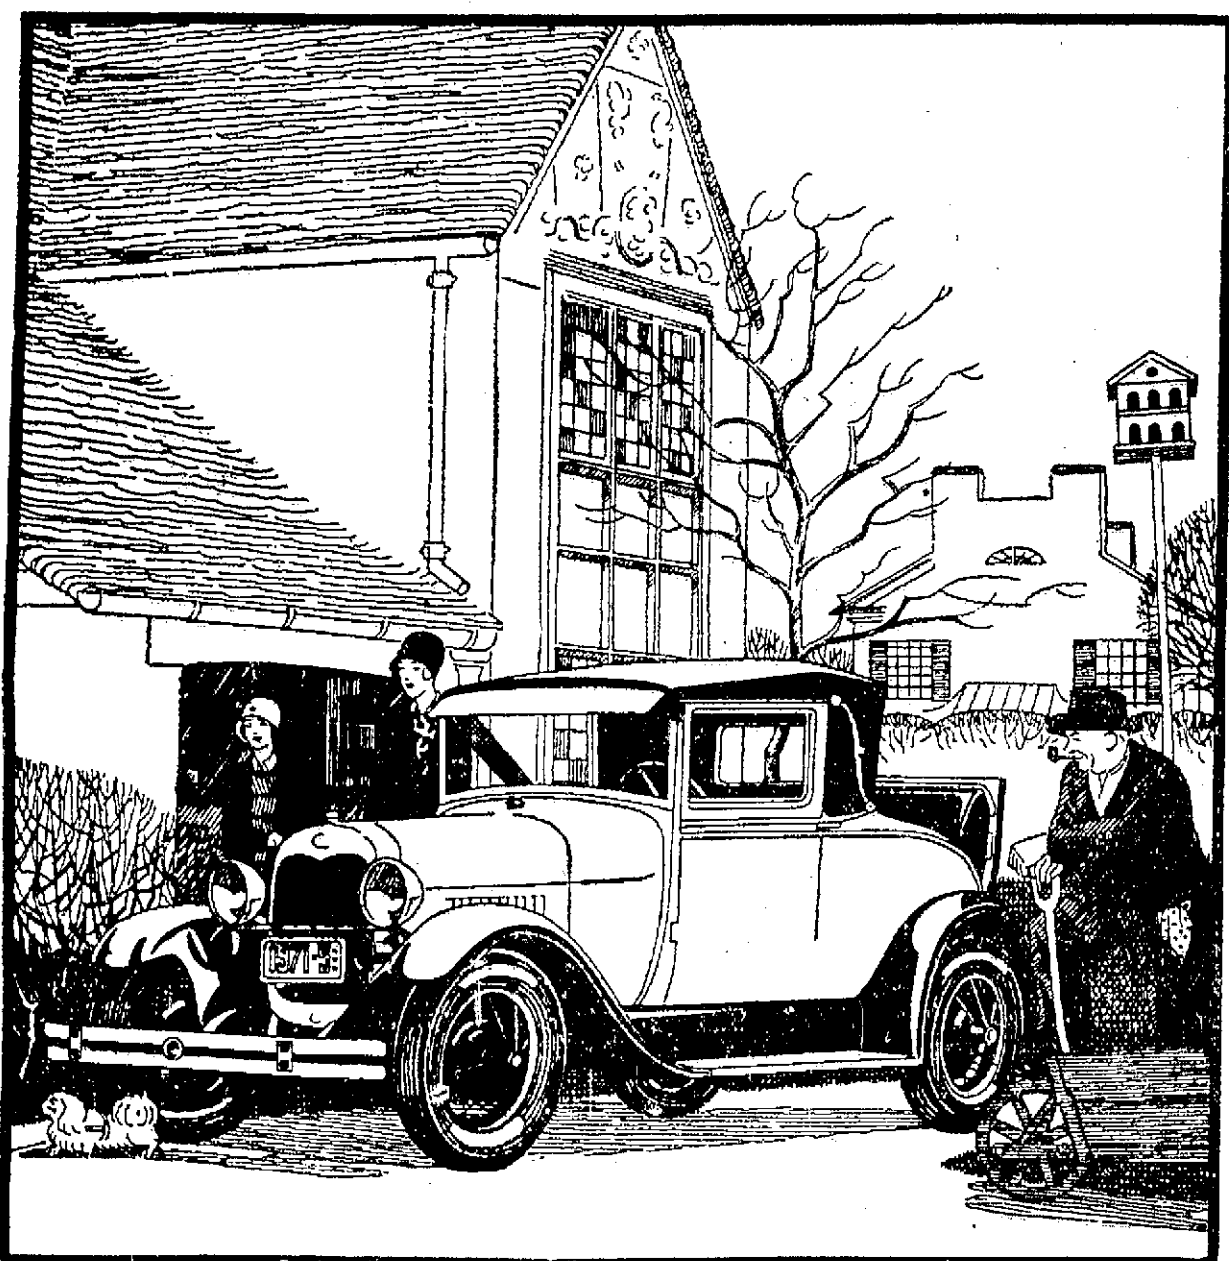

Economy

The new Ford is an economical car to own and drive because of the low cost of operation and up-keep. It averages more than 20 miles per gallon of gasoline and the cost of tires and oil is also low.

Low first cost, the security of a fair trade-in value, the availability

Rentz Reports Miami Gave Hoover Bigger Reception On Arrival

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, now in Miami, Florida, writes an interesting letter concerning his arrival in the southern city. He got in about the same time that President-Elect Hoover arrived, and reports that Hoover got the biggest reception. The letter follows:

Miami, Fla.,
Wednesday, Jan. 23, 1929.
Jacob F. Rentz, Esq.,
News Office, New Castle, Pa.
Dear Jake:—

We got here at about 2:30 Monday morning. There were only a few policemen at the depot and they hardly noticed us. This is something, anyhow, as a lot of people are noticed by the police the first time.

What a different greeting Mr. Hoover and his party received. The minute we struck the outskirts of the city, which was near the center of this burg, the presidential cars began to boom. The name of the main stem of this burg is Flagler, named after the man who had the most money that any man ever had in Florida, and that includes the boom years. Mr. Hoover was not in the same car with his wife. Life was in an open car and I heard they had an awful time finding an open car. They found plenty of cars with holes in their roofs, but they wanted one that looked nice. Mrs. Hoover did not ride with Mr. Hoover. This was evidently for the purpose of making the parade longer. They stopped the parade on the Biscayne Bay park front and someone presented Mr. Hoover with an armful of fishing poles. No doubt there were also some patriots in line, but they would have given him a bottle of bait, but they would not take in this country like it does in Mexico. While we were standing for the parade to come alone, who comes galloping along but Capt. Joe Chambers, formerly of New Castle. He had a mighty fine looking young wife with him and we had a fine visit while waiting for the parade.

At the most prominent point in Biscayne Bay park near the street, was a large sign which had on it in big letters "California Welcomes Hoover in Florida." Omigosh!

Mr. Hoover is on an island in the ocean in front of this city. He has quite a few ships tied to the wall back of his house and he can go out there and get into a ship and go to any port in this world.

Down in this country when they do not like the looks of the water in the ocean they make an island on a spot and in a few years one would think he was in the Garden of Eden. They sure know how to move big trees from one place to another, or rather to the place where they will do the most good. I do not expect to see Mr. Hoover. I also wrote him a letter before I left home and I don't even expect him to see it. I don't think Mr. Hoover even knows I am here and at least all I do not think he knows I was the original Hoover Republican in Lawrence county, but was not able to go to Kansas City to tell him about it.

I may write you more about Mr. Hoover later.

They are having a great Rotary Forum meeting here. We have been attending it every day. This forum is made up of the Rotarians who are visiting here from all over the United States and there are nearly a thousand of them. One would not think that many Rotarians could afford to come here. The first morning I was there some one tapped me on the shoulder and when I looked up it was Joe Norris of New Castle. He is at the parade to come alone, who comes galloping along but Capt. Joe Cham-

Howard W. Smith of Ellwood City.

Then there was our own District Governor Wehlye from the 33rd district and friends from Erie, Greenville and other places.

Paul P. Harris, the founder of Rotary, is here and made a fine address on Tuesday morning. He is very much all right and is fairly idolized by the Rotarians here. He is going to stay until the end of the forum which will be Friday of this week.

There are a lot of social activities for the rest of the week and we expect to participate in most of them.

When I got your telegram this morning telling of the snow back home I was sitting at the window brushing the sweat from my face. We have been sitting in the White Temple where Rotary meetings are held, with all doors and windows open and fans in our hands. It is just simply hot. The people are going around with light clothes on like we do at home in August. I get a good laugh out of some of the birds who go around dressed in knickers. This is particularly funny if they have whiskers and smoke cigars. The ladies are wearing as little as possible and in some cases it looks as if they were wearing even less. That rumor that skirts are to be longer must have been started by the silk makers. There is no use for the cotton making to say anything any more.

There was a Scotch singer at the Rotary meeting this morning, but he was not in it with Louie Round, but I think his knees were cleaner. They do not have any soot here.

They always sing at least one song at every gathering in Miami and it is entitled "Let Us Boost Miami." They sing it to any tune, including The Star Spangled Banner and Sweet Adeline. Jake, this is a great country, but I am afraid I never can get used to what I have heard referred to as "extreme heat." I love the cold, but I find it cheaper to be here for a few weeks.

Lovingly yours,
DAD.

Clubs Have Exhibit At Ben Franklin

The regular semester club exhibit at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school, held all last week in the lobby of the school has closed. Teachers and others say it was the best exhibit held yet.

Of the 40 student organizations that function at Franklin, almost 14 were represented in the semi-annual showing, sponsored entirely by the clubs that do the exhibiting. Sample work done by each club, or an exhibit of what work the club is studying, is displayed for the students and other teachers to see. At the close of the second semester another exhibit will be given, showing the work of the various clubs during the second 18-weeks period of school.

Among those clubs that had a place in last week's exhibit were the handicraft club, home nursing, fancywork, boys' cooking, artcraft, nature, girls' etiquette, serving, scrap book, tree, bird and flower, photography, picture study and the scribbles club.

On the handicraft club's table were samples of the fine handwork that members of this organization are responsible for. There were felt covered coat hangers, gaily decorated flower pots, not to mention the other unique attractions that had places in the handicraft group.

The home nursing organization at Franklin, which functions for those girls who would become more familiar with the arts of household nursing, had a distinctly different display. On its table was arranged a miniature nursing scene over which a convalescent nurse presided. In the middle bed was a sick patient. Much credit for this clever display goes to the supervisor of the art club, Miss Lois Kerr.

Then the fancywork club, supervised by Miss Anne Rice, had an exhibit no less attractive than the others. Boudoir pillows in fan, half-moon and other shapes, made by the members of her club, were exhibited among numerous other smaller creations.

The boys' cooking club of Franklin, widely-famed because of its splendid reputation, that of having in its membership some of the finest cooks in the school, girls not excluded, had a real exhibit in the semi-annual show. But the things displayed were but a few of the things that the club actually cooks. There were biscuits, a valentine heart made of jello, cakes, delicious fudge and other appetizing fancies. Miss Thelma Howell is the teacher of the boys and directs the club.

Large Congregations Feature Services In Churches On Sunday

Series Of Evangelistic Services Conclude In Many Churches; New Members Received

An ideal winter day brought out great crowds of worshippers to many of the churches throughout this city on Sunday at both the morning and evening services. A great many people, as the result of the recent visitation evangelistic campaign, who have not been regular attendants at the Sunday services were present, and were received into full membership in a number of churches.

The First Presbyterian church was filled to overflowing at the morning service. The Lord's Supper was observed and eighty-one new members were received.

At the First Baptist church a week's series of evangelistic meetings under the direction of Rev. W. W. Ayer, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Gary, Ind., concluded Sunday evening. The auditorium and gallery were filled with many in the Sunday school room. Rev. Ayer delivered a most heartsearching message on the theme "Eternity." Preceding the sermon, the pastor, Rev. George Landis administered the ordinance of baptism to a number of adults.

A much larger congregation than usual attended the evening service in Trinity church, finding a cordial greeting awaiting them, and taking part in a short simple service using the method of modern, scientific historical scholarship.

Rev. Pearson analyzed the life of Christ from the testimony of His enemies, His friends and the common people, showing the irresistible conclusion that "Jesus Is God." "What difference this makes today?" constituted the concluding session of a discourse that had the closest attention of all. Next Sunday evening the same plan will be followed in an effort to make the most of the results of the recent campaign.

A ten days revival service culminated with the communion in the Third United Presbyterian church. A large number of new members were received at the morning service.

Liner America's Crew Lionized In New York

Intrepid Crew Of Rescue Vessel With Captain George Fried In Command Docks

Mayor Jimmie Walker And Other New York Notables On Welcoming Committee

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
Special Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A terrific din broke over New York harbor Saturday afternoon as the rescue ship America, shaggy with ice, nosed up the bay with its heroes on board. Captain George Fried and the courageous crew that faced death a few days ago in saving thirty-two lives as the Italian freighter Florida floundered in storm-swept seas.

There was a crashing, screaming roar from all the shipping in the harbor, deep-toned whistles of big liners mingling with the staccato screaming of tug boats, fire boats and other craft. In the wake of the long black liner was the city's welcome tug, the Macom, which had gone to quarantine to greet the heroes.

Crew Is Praised
Shy and unassuming, Captain Fried recoiled from being hailed a hero. All the credit for the rescue should go to his men, and to his chief officer, Harry Manning, who commanded the rescuing life boat.

"Manning did it all," said Captain Fried. "Let him tell it."

And Manning did, under protest, minimizing his own heroism and giving full credit to his men.

While the craft in the harbor was rending the air with noise, the America, with Captain Fried on the bridge, slowly steamed to pier 4, at Hoboken, where it docked shortly after two o'clock. The Captain seemed unconcerned to the greeting aimed at him and his men as he directed the mooring of the ship.

2,000 On Hand
It was the second time that New York harbor and its vessels had turned loose a raucous welcome to Captain Fried. Almost three years ago to the day, this harbor and city joined in a similar ovation after Fried, then in command of the liner President Roosevelt, had rescued the crew of the British freighter Antiope.

Two thousand persons jammed every vantage point at the pier as the America docked.

A mighty cheer went up. Three ambulances were drawn up to the pier with physicians in them. Five of the seriously injured of the rescued crew of the Florida were placed in the ambulances and hurried to a hospital for treatment.

One of the most enthusiastic of the welcomers of Captain Fried and his men was Police Commissioner Grover Whalen, who has "officially" greeted scores of other idols—Lindbergh, Ederle, Byrd, Chamberlain, Rickenbacker, Pershing.

Whalen was the first to shake the hands of Captain Fried and Chief Officer Manning as the flag-bedecked ed Macom eased close to the side of the America at Quarantine.

"Don't you get tired of welcoming us?" asked Captain Fried.

"I shall always be glad to welcome such as you," replied Whalen.

Captain Fried was then greeted by his wife, Mrs. Maurya Fried. He kissed her twice. Then he was torn away by scores of others waiting to welcome him.

Manning Tells Story
Chief Officer Manning stood bashfully aside as his superior was shaking hands.

Suddenly an elderly woman, Mrs. Anna Manning, tears in her eyes, although she was smiling, rushed up to Manning and threw her arms around the young officer.

"My son, my brave son!" she cried. And she kissed him tenderly, unmindful of the clicking cameras.

When the commotion quieted down, somewhat newspaper men asked Captain Fried to tell them "all about it."

But not a word would the Captain say, asserting that "Manning did it all—he will tell you about it."

The first officer gulped, looked appealingly at his skipper—and gave up.

"Well," he began, "it was 'like this. Then, haltingly, he plunged into a detailed account of the rescue. He continually referred to the courage of his men. There was only one 'I' in his whole story. That was when he told how a man fell on him, and 'I had to be hauled up the ladder.'"

Tells of Gale
"I just did my duty," said Manning, summing up the story.

The first officer hesitantly told of the gale that was blown over the turbulent seas as he launched the thirty-foot lifeboat from the America to go to the rescue of the floundering Florida.

"The Florida was over on her starboard side, practically awash," Manning said. "Our lifeboat was tossed around like a cork. We rigged up a line and the fellows jumped into the sea, grabbed it and came over to our boat. As the fifteenth man came over the line broke and we had to drag him in."

"That was the easiest part of the job for we had difficulty getting back to the America. It took us an hour. We put the rescued men in the bottom of the boat but finally had to use them to help us get back to the boat."

Crew Behaved Well
"The crew behaved admirably. The captain of the Florida was splendid. He was the last to leave his ship."

Chief Officer Manning said his back has been hurting a little, but it's nothing. He said that never in his sea experience, had he seen such a case of helplessness as befell the Florida.

"The cooperation of Captain Fried in bringing the America as close as possible to the lifeboat without fouling it enabled us to save not only the crew of the Florida, but ourselves," said Manning.

"All the men did well and I just did my duty. I guess that's all."

Baby Was Born
New York, Jan. 28.—While the steamship America was rushing to the aid of the ill-fated Florida, a baby was born in the third class cabin, it was learned today as the America docked.

The name of the mother was not given out, but it was revealed that the baby was named "George Fried" in honor of the gallant skipper.

Passengers made up a purse for the parents.

One of the poorest methods of getting some publicity is to appear in the delinquent tax list—The Muncie Morning Star.

WAR TIME LETTERS BY COL. LEASURE

Written From Battlefront During Civil War

From Papers of Late Col. J. S. DuShane

Col. Daniel Leasure
Picture Property of T. A. Preston,
1215 East Washington Street.

Following is a continuation of Col. Leasure's letter of June 28th, the first part of which was printed Saturday in The News:

"Gordy is of incalculable service to me as Acting Assistant Adjutant General. He, somehow, or other, has a far greater knowledge of military details than I had any idea of, and his accuracy and promptness have elicited praise from general headquarters."

"The 76th have never been under fire, though they have been so unfortunate as to lose some men on picket, shot by their own men in mistake. The regiment looked on at the bombardment of Pulaski, and got an order from the Governor for an inscription of 'Pulaski' on their flag. The Roundheads have seen some service, but it remains to be seen whether we get a flag or an inscription."

"We still follow the old flag presented to Captain Vass Gordon by the ladies of Mahoningtown. We have had no letters from home dated since we left Beaufort."

"I have some idea of the effect the ten thousand runners, who added to the realities of our present active daily contact with the enemy, will produce at home. Even here during the day of the battle an orderly rode into camp (remember, our camp is only two miles from the lower fort) and announced that I was killed, that he was beside me when I fell and that he remained by my side until I died. Of course, I corrected that report officially. Do not believe anything about us but the official returns. There can be little reliance placed on the correspondents of the New York papers. They are mostly a set of Southerners and spongers who bepraise certain officers and troop to the neglect or disparagement of others. Especially do they keep the Pennsylvania regiments out of sight, and praise up the New York regiments."

"Of our wounded at Hilton Head, one has died (Thomas Williams of Company 'M') and one more will doubtless die (Charles Stambaugh of Company 'H', a sailor who joined us on the Ocean Queen.) This makes our present dead 17 already out of the week of the 15th, and four are dead from action of the 3rd. The wounded still living will be sent home as soon as they are able to stand the voyage. Lieutenant Gilliland is doing well and running about everywhere, but has no use of his arm yet. I think he will leave for home in a few days. Captain Moore will go home on sick leave, never, I fear, to return."

"The ball may open today, or whenever it suits either party to lead off, but there is no anxiety manifested, only a state of readiness among us all. My German regiment, the 45th New York, seems very much attached to me and I have no doubts they will prove themselves good soldiers. The 79th New York, Highlanders, are also very fond of me and I think they will render good service as skirmishers. Of the 100th I need not speak. There is no telling what there may be in store for us here but a faithful discharge of duty and a firm reliance upon God for success as well as protection, will keep care away. Try not to think of your husband as a soldier who has proved that he does not fear man and has no particular or special reason to fear God more than ordinary simple mortals, and as being beset by circumstances that may render your ever meeting him again among the uncertainties that none of us can calculate. Not having heard from the North nor from any of you for so long a time, I am ignorant of the feeling at home in all senses of the word."

return. He has incipient consumption. My own health is first rate. I sleep well of nights (when I get leave) and am vastly more happy in my tent hearing the enemy's revile and tattoo than ever I was in palatial Beaufort.

He was sure he was in for his usual winter colds

But "Triple Action" keeps him well all winter long!

I AM very susceptible to colds and when I had to go out selling in the worst day of the winter, I was sure I was in for my usual prolonged cold and coughing spell. When I came home that night, however, I took Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. Almost immediately I felt better. My nose cleared up, my cough stopped.

After that, every time I began sniffing or coughing, I reached for Smith Brothers'. All winter long Smith Brothers' kept me well.

I can't begin to figure out how much money, worry and trouble Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup has saved me.

Mr. A. MALVIN

Parents frightened about Jim's bad cough...

"Triple Action" makes them all smile again!

JIM caught cold at the skating rink. He coughed, and coughed, and coughed. Naturally we were frightened. We gave him Smith Brothers' Cough Syrup. After two swallows he felt better, his cough calmed down. We could actually see how the syrup soothed and relieved him.

"How grateful we were to Smith Brothers"—to see our little son well again so soon!"

Mrs. R. RICHMOND

Smith Brothers' Triple Action Cough Syrup works fast—because it does the three things that science recommends: 1—soothes, 2—it is mildly laxative, 3—clears air passages... Safe for children! It has the famous cough drop flavor.

Suffering From Ill Health T. J. Evans Hangs Self

Body Found By Son In Horse Shed Where He Had Gone To Feed Horse

Suffering from ill health, T. J. Evans, aged 59, of the West Pittsburgh road, hanged himself in a horse shed Saturday evening. Mr. Evans, who for years has collected tin cans and waste paper in New Castle, was taken ill with the flu about two weeks ago. He had sufficiently recovered to go about, and on Saturday evening went out to feed his horse, which he kept in a shed near the house.

It was shortly after 7 o'clock when he went to the shed and as he did not return within a reasonable time, his son, Thomas Evans, a boy about 14 years old, went out to see what was the matter. On opening the door he was horrified to see his father hanging to a post in the shed. With great presence of mind the boy pulled out a pocketknife and cut the rope. He called for help and Irwin Peak, who happened to be at the house responded. Together they carried Evans into the house, but he was dead.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell was notified and made an investigation which showed that Evans had tied a piece of heavy rope to a brace on a post. The fastening of the rope was not high enough to permit Evans standing on anything and jumping off after he had adjusted the noose about his neck. He had simply thrown the weight of his body on his neck and strangled to death with his feet still resting on the floor of the shed.

Members of the family stated that he had been very despondent of late and had acted queerly, but they never thought of his attempting suicide.

MORAVIA STOP

We are glad to report that Mrs. Bert Wiley is improving.

Calvin, son of Mrs. Robert White has been ill for the past few days.

Miss Alice Locke spent the week end in Ellwood City with her sister Mrs. Ray Joseph.

Mrs. James Cravener spent Friday in Ellwood City and attended the basketball game.

Mr. Clyde Styer is very ill in the New Castle hospital as the result of a basket set after flu.

On Wednesday evening Miss Alice Locke entertained a group of friends in honor of Miss Lola Shaffer's birthday. Six o'clock dinner was served by the hostess and her mother. The guest list included Miss Lola Shaffer, Edith Shaffer, Dorothy Sonntag.

A number of our young people attended the basketball game at Jackson High to see the Shenango girls defeated by the Mt. Jackson lassies to the tune of 30-32. It seemed to be an off night for Shenango as our boys also were trimmed by a 27-29 score. The game was close.

On Thursday evening, January 24 a party of friends to the number of thirty surprised Miss Goldie Young the occasion being her birthday. Games and music were enjoyed by the crowd and a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Young assisted by Miss Alice Neal. The guest list included Alice Neal, Dorothy Sonntag, Alice Locke, Marie Houk, Glenora Houk, Sara Renick, Ruth Burhanan, Viola Shiedemantle, Edith Shaffer, Lola Shaffer, Cora Mae Kennedy, Margaret Long, Nellie Kennedy, Inez Houk, Julia Houk, Margaret Boozie, Melvin Rhinchart, Walter Sonntag, Lawrence Buchanan, Raymond Pander, Everett Pander, Russel Myers.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, (ad.)

PLAYS WORTH READING

Suggested by Mrs. A. M. Shumaker
For the Drama Committee

It is the custom of many of us to look upon plays as literary creations designed to be seen rather than read. This is an unfortunate hypothesis, for it closes the door upon one of the greatest fields of literary endeavor. For us who live in small communities the opportunity to see plays is limited. Through reading alone we can make the acquaintance of our great dramatists. If we deny ourselves this privilege, such personalities as Ibsen, Tolstoy, Rostand, Shakespeare, O'Neill and Shaw must remain unknown to us.

It is just an enjoyable (if not more so) to read plays as it is to read novels or short stories. The action is swifter, the situations more dramatic and the form more concise. No lengthy, tiresome descriptions nor "padding" waste our time and try our patience.

As it is necessary to follow a guide in selecting the worthwhile from among the mass of novels which flood the market, so it is advisable to have a guide in selecting the plays one would read. To meet this necessity we have selected from among the plays produced this year on Broadway a few which would be worth while to read. To meet this necessity we have selected from among the plays produced this year on Broadway a few which would be worth while to read. The list includes some new plays which have been produced for the first time, and some old favorites which have been revived.

Eugene O'Neill has long been considered our leading dramatist. Critics agree that his "Strange Interlude" is the outstanding American play to date. It is novel in form, being nine acts long. When the play is produced, five acts are given during the afternoon, there is an hour's intermission for dinner and the rest of the play is presented during the evening. One critic calls it "nine acts of intellectual thunder."

"Machinal" by Sophie Treadwell is another play which is attracting attention. It too breaks away from the usual three act form; it is written in two parts containing ten short, photographic scenes. The story is of a woman's struggle against her environment. It relates the events leading up to and precipitating a murder. The producer of this play says, "Machinal" offers an entirely new experience in the theatre."

"Gods of Lightning" by Maxwell Anderson and Harold Hickerson is written about the Sacco-Vanzetti case. When the curtain rose upon the premiere showing, the audience cheered for five minutes.

"Holiday" is a new play by Philip Barry (who wrote "You and I"). It is a delightfully entertaining play with charming characters.

"The Age of Innocence" by Margaret Ayer Barnes is adapted from Edith Wharton's story of the 70's. It preserves the graces of a graceful era. Katherine Cornell (who made "The Green Hat" famous) plays the leading role in the New York production.

"Major Barbara" by George Bernard Shaw is a spectacular demonstration of the theory that money makes morals.

"Caponsacchi" by Arthur Goodrich and Rose Palmer is a dramatization of "The Ring and the Book" by Browning.

Channing Pollack has written and produced an allegory which he calls "Mr. Moneybags." It is a modernized Faust.

A Play Without a Name by Austin Strong (who wrote Seventh Heaven), "The Perfect Alibi" by A. A. Milne, and "The Sacred Flame" by W. Somerset Maugham are also outstanding among the new plays.

From the plays which have been revived we have selected "The Wild Duck" by Ibsen, "The Beaux Strategem" by Farquhar, "She Stoops to Conquer" by Goldsmith, "The Devil" by Molnar, "The Would-Be Gentleman" by Moliere, "Macbeth" by Shakespeare (which has been revived with the famous Gordon Craig settings), "The Living Corpse" by Tolstoy and "Cyrano de Bergerac" by Rostand.

"The Living Corpse" is said to be one of the greatest of the world's great plays. It has recently been produced by Max Reinhardt and his German players. This play is sometimes called "Redemption."

During the latter part of the nineteenth century, a young Frenchman named Rostand gave to the world a glorious play immortalizing that picturesque figure of the days of Richelieu, Cyrano de Bergerac, noted for his long sword, his long wit, his long rhymes and his long nose! The play was produced in this country in the original tongue. Walter Hampton, then a boy, saw the play and was so captivated by it that he took up the study of French that he might be able to read it. About five years ago, he decided to realize his lifelong ambition and produce the play. However, no adequate translation had been made. Hampton commissioned Brian Hooker to make a new translation. This one came up to his expectations and the play was produced. So great is its popularity that it has become an institution in the American theatre. Those who have not yet read Brian Hooker's translation of "Cyrano de Bergerac" have a glorious adventure in store.

Still Thin

Still young, still lovely

So easy to fight fat

Have you wondered why the extra-fat people of old days have so largely disappeared? The chief reason lies in a scientific discovery made some 25 years ago. Medical research found that a great cause of excess fat lay in a defective gland. A way to correct it was discovered. Since then, physicians the world over have employed this method in the fight on fat.

A famous medical laboratory perfected the utmost in this method in Marmola's prescription tablets. People have used them for 21 years—millions of boxes of them. You can see the results wherever you look. Excess fat in men and women is nowhere near as common as it was.

No starvation, no over-work, corrects the cause of excess fat, but moderation helps. When the cause lies in a defective gland, that cause must be corrected. The slender figures that you see about you are largely due to Marmola. The new youth and beauty, new health and vigor that you envy. You do yourself a grave injustice if you omit this help.

The way is to correct this gland deficiency. No abnormal exercise or diet. Simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. Watch the fat go, watch the new vitality return. You will be delighted. Do this now to live life at the full. You should not delay a day.

Marmola's prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get these at once from his jobber.

New Wilmington Man Reported In Critical Condition; Other News Of Town

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 28.—William E. Criss, New Wilmington resident, has been moved to the Mercy hospital in Pittsburgh. Operation was said to be out of the question until the poison that is extant has been fought down by the college town man.

Yesterday the condition of Mr. Criss was reported critical and it was reported that no operation could be made to relieve the congestion in his digestive tract until the poison in his system had been killed. If the fight against the poison is successful, an operation may be performed at the end of the week.

Final semester examinations are to be held in the local high school the latter three days of this week. The new semester will start with the opening of school next Monday.

A social and business meeting of the Bible class of Dr. Elizabeth McLaughlin is scheduled to be held in the local United Presbyterian church this evening. Both members and friends are invited.

With good skating weather prevailing many of the young folk of New Wilmington and Westminster College took advantage of the good ice on the pond and the "cut" Saturday afternoon. Both of these frozen bodies of water bore up many local skaters.

The Misses Jean Boyd, Rosamund Sowash and Margaret Sowash journeyed to Pittsburgh Saturday, where they spent the week-end.

Dr. S. A. Kirkbride preached the morning service at the local Presbyterian church yesterday.

Scientist Prescribes Diet According To Types

Dr. Benj. G. HAUSER (above), with his "chemical man" used in demonstrating his theories on diet. Below Jack Dempsey, a "sodium" and Billie Dove a "hydrogen" type.

By International Illustrated News.
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Consider your body as a laboratory in which chemicals fuse refuse to mix. "Light" one another, take on different forms or explode much as the y do in a scientist's test tube.

That's the advice of Dr. Benjamin Gaylord Hauser, noted physiological chemist who believes that the chemical personality of any individual can be accurately charted and his health fortified and safeguarded by following this "type" diet.

High Blood Pressure Shortens Your Life

How to Stop It—Read This.

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so common that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness. Often one bottle of Normia will bring reductions in blood pressure and stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Normia is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Normia.

You're a nitrogen type say and have eaten chlorine food for dinner. The chances are that you will wake up in the morning with a dark brown taste and aching and puffy eyes.

PICK YOUR DIET.

Sodium Type—Raw vegetables, salads, figs, beets, spinach.

Hydrogen Type—Cheese, whole cereals, lentils, meat, herring, eggplant.

Phosphorus Type—Wheat (bran bread), sea food, prunes, oatmeal, meat.

Potassium Type—Fruits (especially oranges and grapefruit), vegetables, nuts, celery.

Sulphur Type—Grapefruit, almonds, citrus fruits.

Oxygen Type—Bran foods, grapes, green peas, artichokes.

Nitrogen Type—Whole cereals, vegetables, fruit.

Chlorine Type—Cheese, especially Roquefort, Swiss, meat juices, ripe olives, meat, herring.

Similarly if you're potassium and indulge too freely in phosphorus edibles, blame only yourself for that feeling of giddiness on the street.

"Classify yourself" cries Dr. Hauser, "and stick to your proper foods. The process won't necessarily make you wealthy but it will certainly make you healthy—and wise."

Here are some representatives of the different types: Sodium, Ex-Governor Al Smith, P. A. Negri, Gall Carch, Jack Dempsey and Al Johnson, hydrogen, President-elect Hoover, Billie Dove and Emil Jannings; phosphorus, Col. Lindbergh, President Coolidge, Mayor Jimmy Walker and Greta Garbo; potassium, Gene Tunney, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and Charles M. Schwab; calcium, Thomas A. Edison and Benito Mussolini.

The learned physiologist advises us all to examine our features, determine into which class we fall and—follow the type diet.

The Story Of American Industry
Master Craftsmen And Apprentices

SINCE THE MIDDLE AGES, GUILDS OF SKILLED ARTISANS, MASTER CRAFTSMEN, HAD EXISTED IN ENGLAND AND OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR HANDMADE ARTICLES THAT COULD NOT BE PRODUCED WITH FACILITY IN THE HOME. THE MEMBERS OF THESE GUILDS, OR TRADE-UNIONS, TOOK PIDE IN THEIR WORK, AND ENJOYED A HIGH STANDING IN THE COMMUNITY.

IT WAS THEN THE CUSTOM FOR A BOY, UPON CHOOSING A TRADE, TO BECOME AN APPRENTICE TO A "MASTER" CRAFTSMAN. FOR FOUR OR FIVE YEARS THE LAD SERVED HIS MASTER, MEANWHILE LEARNING ALL THERE WAS TO KNOW ABOUT THE TRADE.

WHEN THE APPRENTICE BECAME A "JOURNEYMAN" TRAVELING FROM PLACE TO PLACE, PICKING UP WORK WHEREVER HE FOUND IT, AND ADDING PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE TO HIS STORE OF KNOWLEDGE OF HIS CRAFT. AFTER FIVE YEARS OR MORE SPENT AS A JOURNEYMAN, HE APPEARED BEFORE THE MASTERS OF HIS GUILD AND SUBMITTED AN EXAMPLE OF HIS WORK TO THEM.

IF IT MET THE APPROVAL OF THE MASTERS, THE JOURNEYMAN WAS ADMITTED TO THE STANDING OF A "MASTER," AND WAS ENTITLED TO OPEN A SHOP OF HIS OWN. THIS SYSTEM PRODUCED A CLASS OF HIGHLY TRAINED, SPECIALIZED WORKERS, AND CONTINUED UNTIL THE MIDDLE OF THE 18TH CENTURY.

PEROTTA MEETS HYBERT HERE TONIGHT

Fans Anticipate Thrilling Battle

Four Other Bouts To Be Staged In Which Local Boys Appear

EXPECT LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON

George Perotta, New Castle, and Floyd Hybert, Ashtabula, popular middle-weights, are ready for their fistic "war" tonight at Jolly Bowl. They're "dolled up" mentally and physically for a bout scheduled for 10 rounds. After weighing public interest in the bout we're inclined to believe that Mr. and Mrs. Every Body and their neighbors will be present to see five sons of Pa. Nerve meet opponents from other cities in the pugilistic extravaganza.

Fans are most keenly interested in the Perotta-Hybert bout. Contrary to expectations, the native son is not much of an "underdog" in "who will win" opinions. Fans realize that Perotta carries a terrific "sock," is game to the backbone and is in good condition. Hybert will probably be a 10 to 9 favorite at ring time owing to his fights with Firpo. Like George, Hybert is aggressive, game and tough. FANS IMPRESSED BY GEORGE'S HARD WORK

Fans have watched Perotta for a month. They knew that he took to heart the whaling Firpo gave him and also the fact that many of his so-called friends gave him the "go by." Perotta determined to come back and he adopted the sane and sensible route, early to bed, early to arise and intense training.

Hybert has trained at Ashtabula. After he fought Firpo here he traveled to Cleveland, met Wilson Yarb and outpointed Yarb. Wilson is the champion of the world in the bantamweight class and sent Mickey Walker to the clinch and sent Mickey to the floor. He didn't get a chance to nail Hybert, but rather took a beating. This victory increased Hybert's reputation nationally.

SECONDS TO PLAY IMPORTANT ROLES Men who advise the fighters will have an important part in the battle as it is from the corners that most fights have been won. It is not yet known who will second Perotta. However, this will be decided this afternoon. Every fan who likes Perotta would like to see him attended to zealously.

Hybert will be handled by Eddie Borden and Paul Hamilton of Cleveland. Eddie Mead, former manager of Bantamweight Champion Joe Lynch, will not be in his corner, as Eddie has been ill and is recuperating at Hot Springs, according to a letter received here. Borden and Hamilton know their stuff. Hybert will get plenty of good advice.

SIX-ROUND BOUTS Babe Picato, who returned recently from Los Angeles, will get his long sought for chance to fight in the bowl when he battles Sammy Harris, a fast "yaller boy" from Akron. Babe has fought all of the best boxers in the featherweight class and went eight rounds with Champion Sammy Mandell, lightweight division. Harris recently floored Chet Smailwood three times. Babe will have to watch Sammy's right hand. Babe has a keen left.

Erie East Quintet Trims New Castle

New Castle High Basketeers Lose At Erie, 24 To 21, In Hardfought Battle

Weir And Alexander Are High Scorers Of Game; Locals Lose Out In Foul Tossing

(Special To The News)

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 23.—New Castle high school basketball team came here Saturday night touted as a formidable quintet and quite lived up to their reputation by giving the Erie East high team its hardest floor game of the year. The Erie team nosed out the down-staters 24 to 21, but had to play a fast snappy game in the final quarter to turn the trick.

Playing on a strange court the New Castle boys had a little difficulty in getting started in the opening round. The Erie team held a lead of 6 to 5 at the end of the first quarter. At the conclusion of the first half the New Castle team, led by Weir and Alexander, had managed to forge to the front with a tally of 12 to 11.

The game was hard fought and closely contested in the third quarter. Both teams were about evenly matched. The New Castle team at the end of the third quarter held a lead of 17 to 16, with Weir and Alexander still carrying the load. Late in the fourth quarter Fennell, New Castle guard, was tossed out of the game via the four fouls ruling and McIntosh was sent in. New Castle tried desperately to maintain their lead in the final period, but the foul tossing of the Lawrence countians was none too good. Erie managed to rally late in the quarter and forge ahead by three points. Arrowsmith, Forrest and Meyer were the big guns for Erie.

The playing of Weir, Alexander and Fennell featured for New Castle, with Ciccone also playing a strong guarding game. Captain Ostrosky was one of the mainstays for the Castles.

Fouls Are Disastrous. The game was played on the Erie East high school floor. The New Castle team was bothered somewhat by the bigness of the court. It was one of the best games played in Erie East high this year.

Had the New Castle team showed to better advantage in their foul tossing department, the Erie team would have gone down to defeat. The New Castle team quartered at the Port Erie hotel while in this city.

Both Erie East and New Castle had hard games on Friday night. Erie defeated Warren 23 to 23 and New Castle defeated Albion 17 to 8.

The summary: New Castle 21, Erie East 24. Ostrosky, Fennell, Alexander, Weir, Ciccone, G. McIntosh, Forrest, Subbs, McIntosh for Fennell, Prinznitzky for Troatmiller, Kleiner for Forrest.

Field goals—Ostrosky, Weir, Alexander, Arrowsmith, Troatmiller, Daley, Meyer, Prinznitzky, Kleiner. Fouls—New Castle 3 out of 12, Erie East 6 out of 12.

Referee—Paul Fitting (Erie).

Emmett Rocco and Joe Cumo have returned from New York. Cumo says that Rocco actually won the fight and adds that Rocco has another date in the Garden, February 22. In the meantime Emmett will go to Chicago to meet Big Boy Peterson. In explaining the Garden bout Cumo says that Emmett kept rushing Jack Cross in every round, had him bad three times and especially in the second round when they thought the bout would end. "Gross held" said Cumo "and went the limit."

With a third of the season completed University of Pennsylvania is leading the Eastern College Basketball loop. The Red and Blue has not lost a game. Here in the western section of the state Pitt took the kick out of the Army mule before 5,000 fans at Pittsburgh by an overwhelming score of 69 to 11. In 11 games Hyatt has scored 161 points for Pitt. Pitt meets Temple at Philadelphia, Saturday.

Max Schmelling and Johnny Risko travel to the Garden, Friday night. Risko has not been doing so good lately. He stepped out a few night ago and beat Ted Jackson. K. O. Christianer and Paulina will probably clash next. Jack Dempsey staged his first workout yesterday at Miami Beach and after a month or two will say whether he will attempt a comeback.

With moderate weather the bowl will be the mecca for fans tonight. Sam Campbell of Volant declares he will shake the snow of that section from his brogans to take in the luss. A lot of the boys from the rural section will be in to see the embargo. Wouldn't surprise the writer if almost everyone is there. The mayor of the city will be on tap as he likes a fair stand-up as do the city councilmen.

NEW WILMINGTON High Will Play West Middlesex

(Special To The News)

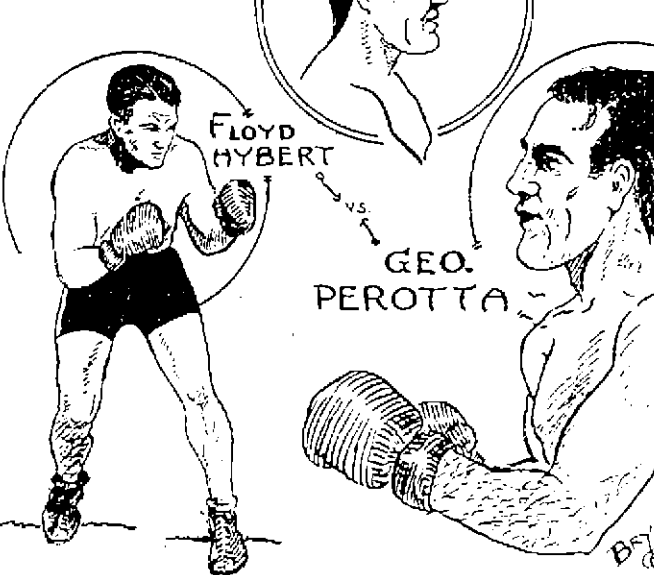

The first of the three games scheduled for this week the New Wilmington high school basketeers play West Middlesex at the West Middlesex floor. Losing to Sharpville last week, the local team does not loom up as an easy victor in the game tomorrow evening.

The line-up of the college town team will probably be slightly changed for the start of tomorrow's fray. Eaglen will probably start at McGill's forward post and Newton may play on the opposite offense position. Captain Patterson and Davis will play guard and Hutchinson will hold down the center position. Hartwell, Neal and McGill will form the reserve material.

In the final two games of the week the Enon Valley and Mt. Jackson teams will furnish the opposition. However, both of these contests are conceded to New Wilmington by the fans, and many of Coach Olsen's substitutes will probably take part.

Ink Drops From Jolly Bowl

THREE FIGHTERS WHO WILL HAVE STAR ROLES IN THE COMING FISTIC SHOW.

Jack Bryan's pen and bottle of ink today has developed three points—

Perotta's left hook, Hybert's right to the body at close quarters and Babe Picato's smiling face. Bryan believes that owing to Hybert hiding his chin behind his shoulder Perotta will have to toss left hooks at the Ashtabula middleweight. He has pictured Hybert prepared to shoot a right to the body or chin as soon as Perotta starts a left hook and in such a race of blows the fastest will score. Babe is a clever chap, true, not so fast as he was a few years back but he's going to the West war tonight with Sammy Harris to find out if he is good enough to keep up the Ashtabula Pace for the dollars that lurk nigh.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Wild Bill Mehlnhorn who took the Texas open golf title severed nine strokes from par on two rounds of the Breckenridge course at San Antonio for a 277 and retention of his crown yesterday. His score was the lowest ever recorded in the event. He won from Horton Smith by four strokes and Hutchinson was third with 282.

Jumbo Bullano arises to remark today that the entire personnel of the Tigers club will be present tonight when George Perotta answers the bell with Floyd Hybert. There are 50 members of the club. They will occupy an entire section. Teecho Mack also has two score fans to follow his banner. The boys are sure rooting for Perotta.

Emmett Rocco and Joe Cumo have returned from New York. Cumo says that Rocco actually won the fight and adds that Rocco has another date in the Garden, February 22. In the meantime Emmett will go to Chicago to meet Big Boy Peterson. In explaining the Garden bout Cumo says that Emmett kept rushing Jack Cross in every round, had him bad three times and especially in the second round when they thought the bout would end. "Gross held" said Cumo "and went the limit."

With a third of the season completed University of Pennsylvania is leading the Eastern College Basketball loop. The Red and Blue has not lost a game. Here in the western section of the state Pitt took the kick out of the Army mule before 5,000 fans at Pittsburgh by an overwhelming score of 69 to 11. In 11 games Hyatt has scored 161 points for Pitt. Pitt meets Temple at Philadelphia, Saturday.

Max Schmelling and Johnny Risko travel to the Garden, Friday night. Risko has not been doing so good lately. He stepped out a few night ago and beat Ted Jackson. K. O. Christianer and Paulina will probably clash next. Jack Dempsey staged his first workout yesterday at Miami Beach and after a month or two will say whether he will attempt a comeback.

With moderate weather the bowl will be the mecca for fans tonight. Sam Campbell of Volant declares he will shake the snow of that section from his brogans to take in the luss. A lot of the boys from the rural section will be in to see the embargo. Wouldn't surprise the writer if almost everyone is there. The mayor of the city will be on tap as he likes a fair stand-up as do the city councilmen.

NEW WILMINGTON High Will Play West Middlesex

(Special To The News)

The first of the three games scheduled for this week the New Wilmington high school basketeers play West Middlesex at the West Middlesex floor. Losing to Sharpville last week, the local team does not loom up as an easy victor in the game tomorrow evening.

The line-up of the college town team will probably be slightly changed for the start of tomorrow's fray. Eaglen will probably start at McGill's forward post and Newton may play on the opposite offense position. Captain Patterson and Davis will play guard and Hutchinson will hold down the center position. Hartwell, Neal and McGill will form the reserve material.

In the final two games of the week the Enon Valley and Mt. Jackson teams will furnish the opposition. However, both of these contests are conceded to New Wilmington by the fans, and many of Coach Olsen's substitutes will probably take part.

SORDS POINTS

Britain's Ryder Cup Team Captain

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist-Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.
George Duncan, Scotland's foremost golfer, has been chosen captain of the British Ryder cup team which tackles Walker Hagen's American golfers on British links this year. Duncan is a golfer of rare ability. He is quick in figuring out his shots and loses no time in preliminary maneuvers. He just chooses his club and bangs away. He is capable of giving the game's greatest stars a merry battle for honor if someone else could do his putting. There is none better in making long iron approach shots, but once on the green he is just another golfer, and proved himself to be one of the most brilliant shot makers among England's young professionals.

Christner May Meet Paulino In Bout At Madison Square Soon

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Indications were today that Paulino Ursuden, the busy Basque, will get first crack at K. O. Christner, the venerable Akron, O., heavyweight, who leaped into the front rank of gate attractions by giving Jack Sharkey a hard battle here Friday night.
Christner has signed up "in blank" to box either Tom Heeneey or Paulino at Madison Square Garden on February 22. Since Charley Harvey has announced that Heeneey will remain in retirement unless he is offered a match with Jack Dempsey, Paulino probably will be Christner's opponent if his board of directors, meeting today, accepts the offer. Heeneey has until tonight to accept the bout.

Wampum Indies To Play On Tuesday

The Indies expect to defeat the valleyites, but a good game is anticipated. The of course, will continue to rest with, Indies have been victorious in seven the weather man.—The Terre Haute games this year and hope to add the Nonpareils to the list of victims.

State College To Rebuild Old Main

Seventy Year Old Building To Be Torn Down And Completely Reconstructed

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 28.—"Old Main" the landmark of this college since its inception, will be torn down and completely remodeled, according to the building plans of the college, made public today by President Ralph Dorn Hetzel.
Preliminary plans for the reconstruction of the condemned and but half used 70 year old structure, have been approved by the college board of trustees, and working plans are being drawn up. It has been found inadvisable to attempt reconstruction of the ancient building through interior reinforcement of the present walls. They have many gaping cracks, due to foundation settling, and entire reconstruction along the lines of the old building will be necessary.

Considerable sentiment is attached to the old building and retention of the general lines and a 150 foot clock tower will keep it the most outstanding landmark of the entire Nittany valley. The rebuilt Old Main will become the center of student activities and administration.

Volleyballists To Play Grove City

Members of the New Castle volleyball team which is captained by Captain Melvin Craig will go to Grove City this evening, where they will play the business men's team at that place.

Refuse To Exempt Bell 'Phone Land

White Admits Company Is Right But Council Votes Negatively

Council met today in city hall and with Burns, Davies, Tyler and Reeves present, a request of the Bell Telephone company for tax exoneration on a plot of ground, situated next to their office was refused three to one.
Councilman Reeves presented the motion to exonerate declaring that under the law the city could not tax the property. He said he did not like the law which created this situation.
The company took the stand that the lot is used in the transaction of telephone business which is a public service and therefore is exempt.
Solicitor White took the same position but said: "I do not like the law which was originally enacted to encourage public service building, but it is the law."
Councilman Burns told Solicitor

White that he had been informed by the late James Gardner that such plots could be taxed and said he would vote negatively.
Councilman Tyler said that even though the law might be as it is said to be, it wouldn't be a poor idea to vote negatively and thus bring to the people the situation as it now is. The motion to exonerate was lost.

Rev. Fr. F. F. O'Shea Marries 546 Couples During Parish Service

In the nearly quarter of a century spent in St. Mary's Parish as its head, the Rev. F. F. O'Shea, who on January 31st, terminates his pastoral connection with the local parish, has been called upon many times to officiate in the marriage of his parishioners, also at the baptism of the newborn members of his parish and finally in death, to assist in placing members of the parish in their last resting place on this earth.

It will no doubt be of interest, not only to the members of the parish to know who were the first persons united in marriage and who was the first person baptized in the parish following the arrival of Father O'Shea as pastor and also how many couples have been united in marriage here since his pastorate and how many persons were baptized.

In February 1907, a short time following his arrival here, Father O'Shea united in marriage Rose Martin and Michael Boyle. They were the first of 546 couples united in the holy bonds of matrimony during his pastorate here.

On February 10, 1907, Francis Loy Vance was the first person baptized by Father O'Shea since assuming his pastorate here. And since that time, and during the pastorate about to be terminated, there have been a total of 1,976 persons baptized in St. Mary's parish.

The very fact that a great majority of these persons are living and will always remember the part that Father O'Shea had in their life, whether as a matter of baptism or marriage, indicates the best of persons to whom his name brings fond memories and happy thoughts.

Proud Her Son Is a Sailor

Mrs. Peter Smith, of Yonkers, N. Y., didn't raise her boy to be a sailor, but she's glad he chose the sea nevertheless. Her son, Nelson, radio operator aboard the S. S. America, picked up distress call of the freighter Florida, later guiding his own ship unerringly to scene of the disaster by means of his radio compass. The mother is shown gazing proudly upon a picture of her hero son. (International Newsphoto.)
